Mr. De Angelis indicated the individual had approached the village staff regarding the possible selling of Elm Grove branded clothing at the 4th of July event. The Committee discussed the commercialization of the event as well as allowing vendors in the park and what that may look like going forward. There was also a clear distinction made between the activities of civic organizations and a for profit business. The Committee recommended these sentiments be passed along to the applicant and they be invited to the next committee meeting if they wish to make a presentation and continue their request.

Mr. Clemins and Mr. DeAngelis gave the Recreation Committee an update on the status of the summer recreation guide and the start of various programs such as pickleball, softball and soccer. Trustee Cornell requested the committee consider reinstating the baking contest. After some discussion and requesting of Ms. Inden to coordinate the event. She indicated that she had worked with Ann Marie in the past and she was sure she would be willing to do it again. Trustee Cornell then asked Ms. Inden if she would consider volunteering to run the bike decorating contest to which she agreed. Ms. Inden then requested to have the Revolutionary War reenactors back as she felt they added greatly to the event. The Committee discussed this and concluded if they would like to come back that would be fine but that they would not be compensated for their attendance and their needs would have to be discussed and approved by Mr. Clemins and Mr. De Angelis. Ms. Inden then discussed the Fun Run and requested it be maintained on the street and not be moved into the park. There was discussion of the Rotary continuing to sponsor the event at $600 as long as their name remain on the t-shirt. There was discussion about a possible volunteer whom Mr. Clemins had not been in contact with at this time. It was discussed that he continue to pursue that avenue as well.
