Retaining Wall Requirements Summary

The following is a summary of retaining wall requirements. Please see Elm Grove Code of Ordinances § 335-88 for a complete listing of all requirements.

- Retaining walls or like structures are ones used for a gardening, screening, stabilizing, ornamental, drainage, decorative or landmark purposes. Included in this definition are monuments, columns and other similar property entrance features.
- Administrative and/or Building Board review of retaining walls and like structures is required in the event that a proposed wall or like structure is in excess of 30 inches in total height. Decorative walls not in excess of 30 inches and located at least five feet from any lot line and used around gardens, plantings, trees, patios or driveways and constructed of natural stone, decorative concrete block or brick DO NOT REQUIRE permitting from the Village. Village staff reserves the right to forward applications to the Building Board for their review and consideration.
- For retaining walls, "height" is defined as the vertically exposed surface area of the wall.
- All retaining walls and like structures over 30+in height require a permit from the Village BEFORE installation can begin. However, retaining walls or like structures over four feet (4' in height or located closer than one foot (1' to the property line also require formal Building Board approval.
- Village staff and/or the Building Board may request additional information deemed reasonable/necessary in order to ensure a competent review of the application.
- Walls/structures shall not be sited in a drainage way, drainage swale or drainage easement.
